Enclosed you will find a conditional use permit application for cleaning out a private drainage ditch in Section 8 of Gales Township. Information regarding the project is found on the conditional use permit. However, I thought I would include a narrative summary of additional plans with this project.

The current private ditch has approximately 18-24" of sediment in the bottom of it and is due to be cleaned. The landowners on this ditch are in agreement that it should be cleaned and they understand a conditional use permit is required because a portion of the private ditch is located within the flood plain of the Cottonwood River.

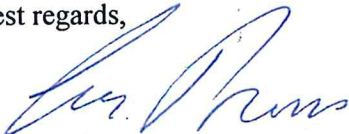

An excavator will be used to clean the ditch out and the excavator will only be removing sediment from the bottom of the ditch so that the side slopes of the ditch remain undisturbed. Sediment from the bottom of the ditch will be removed carefully so that the side slopes of the ditch are not at a higher risk of sluffing off after the sediment has been removed. My best estimate is that the bottom of the ditch is approximately 4' wide.

The sediment from the bottom of the ditch will be placed on the ditch bank where it will dry naturally and as soon as the dirt is dry enough it will be leveled with a bulldozer, field cultivated and seeded with a drill. A grass mix containing annual ryegrass or oats will be seeded so that there is quick establishment and cover on the bare soil.

The project should take 3-4 days to complete the cleaning and then another day or two would be required to level off the spoil and reseed grass.

The estimated time frame to complete this would be July or August, when rainfall patterns are typically less frequent and temperatures are at their peak. This will allow the spoil to dry quickly and for grass to establish well in the latter half of August.
